HELLO,

I'm Olivia Bottros a college student and a graphic designer. I'm 21 years old. couple of years ago if someone asked me what I wanted to be, I would have stood speechless, now I respond with graphic design without questioning or thinking. Graphic design became an arena to vent my thoughts, a place where I could unleash my creativity. I have a great passion for illustration. However, that's not where my passion stops. I have branched out in many directions and discovered my interest in photography, typography and many more. I have participated in the production of my own highschool yearbook in addition to various posters for events. I hope you find my portfolio satisfactory.
